GLOBAL ENTREPRENEURS
PROGRAMME

AIESEC is a global, non-political, independent, not-for-profit organization run by students and recent graduates of institutions of higher education. Its members are interested in world issues, leadership and management. AIESEC does not discriminate on the basis of race, colour, gender, sexual orientation, creed, religion, national, ethnic or social origin. AIESEC provides its members with an integrated development experience comprised of leadership opportunities, international internship and participation in a global learning environment.

“The United Nations has long recognized that the imagination, ideals and energies of young men and women are vital for the continuing development of the societies in which they live. Since its inception in 1948, AIESEC has contributed to this development by serving as an agent of positive change through education and cultural exchange. In an era of globalization, your programmes have helped young people around the world to develop a broader understanding of cultural, socio economic and business management issues.”

Kofi Annan
Former Secretary General
United Nations

“AIESEC has admirably met its objectives of providing students with the opportunity to interact with the business community internationally, thus giving them necessarily industrial exposure, so vital to their future careers. AIESEC in India members have played an important and commendable role in actively pursuing AIESEC’s objective in India.”

Ratan Tata
Chairman, TATA Sons

Global Entrepreneurs Programme

The Global Entrepreneurs Programme is “An initiative to create entrepreneurial leaders through an international experience.”

Through this programme AIESEC provides young students an opportunity to develop entrepreneurial and leadership skills through international internships centered around social issues. The objective is to target our country's youth - the global entrepreneurs of tomorrow - and help them enrich their education by offering them with a holistic international experience. An experience that challenges their world view and helps them gain a unique combination of multi-cultural, social and entrepreneurial exposure during the formative years of their lives.

The Global Entrepreneurs Programme provides students with a global experience for a duration of 6 to 8 weeks to explore a new country while they work on an issue. Going on Exchange or an Internship is one of the most intense learning experiences

I am an Exchange Participant

NIKITA KOKA (SOT-11, P.D.P.U)

AIESEC has been instrumental in shaping my life. An academic path alone would not have provided me with the practical skills that I need today. Leaving my daily routine, I felt different by doing something uncommon, discovered something bigger, something different and exceptional. This exposure was very much important for me, to come out my comfort zone and do something for myself and for the society. Even if I m from engineering background I worked in public relations, human resources, marketing, psychology and this will make me a step ahead of others. After going there I realized we are not very sensitive towards the society but in Egypt people from the toughest faculty like medicine pharmacy engineering are associated with some or the other NGO. I learned to deal with different kind of people having different mentality, a totally different outlook towards life and these things indirectly affects your personality, your way of thinking.

EXPERIENCE IS WHAT YOU NEED IN LIFE.
EXPERIENCE IS WHAT LEADS YOU TO YOUR GOAL IN LIFE.
THEREFORE IT'S ALWAYS THE EXPERIENCE THAT MATTERS...!!!

These lines now have a literal and practical meaning in my life. Wherever you go whatever you do it's the experience you're going to carry with you everywhere
Those 6 weeks I don't know how but has changed me from inside, maybe it's not tangible, maybe it's not measurable, touchable or anything by which I could explain and justify my words "I AM A CHANGED PERSON NOW." But I know I am changed and I have the capacity and potential to change the world around me, not by my words but by my thoughts and actions.
I will always remember the beauty of the opportunity I was given by the most beautiful organization of which I am proud to be a part of.

VINNI ARYA (SLS-12, PDPU)

Going on an internship is like, exploring the unknown. To quote Darwin, it's all about 'survival of the fittest'. I went to Novosibirsk, Russia this summer, on an AIESEC internship. It was a strange land, with strange people. New faces, new places. Prior to the internship, I was a shy, coy person. I never spoke much, always hesitated in a public arena, burdened with inhibitions. Now, that Im back here, I have this unnerving confidence, a newfound passion for my interests. I don't stop myself anymore. I now have the ability to talk to everyone and anyone, act spontaneously, follow my heart and fulfil my desires. While teaching in schools, I connected with the students even though I didn't speak their language. I learnt the importance of non verbal communication. Found an interest in interpreting body language.

Mere words, cannot do justice to what and how I felt during my short stay in Russia.

You've got to live the experience to believe it.

I started of my AIESEC journey to Egypt on 12th of may. I had mixed feelings regarding the internship, place and the people, but all my worries ended when I landed in my intern house, it was such a different and amazing experience to stay with people from so many different nationalities under one roof, sometimes u get to learn a Mexican dish or play an American sport or learn some amazing card tricks from New Zealand people or mimic Chinese, time just passed by and we had so much fun. We explored many parts of Egypt, the sea, desert and pyramids. I had completely different experience full of new people, new adventures and a lot more in store. I also got to make so many new friends and a lot of amazing memories.

The reason why I chose to go for an AIESEC Internship was to get to know myself in a better way, to increase my self belief and to gain some cross-cultural experience. Before this internship I always used to stay quiet, felt shy and never used to speak in public. But this internship turned the tables. Now I am much more confident and filled with immense of self-belief. Attending meetings and planning out different work structures was all too gather a new experience for me as I had never worked before with such organizations. Meeting such awesome people, sharing our changed me a lot. At the end of the internship I felt that even though we all stay in different societies, our upbringing are different, our cultures are different but at the end we carry the same feelings and emotions. This internship totally changed my view as a person for this world, now I can say that I am a GLOBAL CITIZEN.

My AIESEC internship in Kenya is certainly the most adventurous thing i have ever done in my life. As part of my internship I made some business project of basic level for the graduating women. For first two week I tried to get information of women and about their idea for their future business and also work at daycare with the children which were my best experience during the internship. And then in the other three weeks I did my process and put some creative ideas of my mind and finish their business projects.

Energy production and its transmitting is the biggest problem which the world is facing right now. So, I did a research project in which i designed transmitting lines which will work on a simple rule of metal that if its temperature is low then it has better conductivity

This internship has become a life altering experience, full of knowledge-cultural and technical. The only thing that I was aware about Russia was its extreme cold. But once I reached there I was startled to see the warmth of Russian people amidst such cold.

I interacted with the younger generation of Russia during my teaching program and the interaction was nothing less than a sea of knowledge and experience. I know that I cannot put my experience into words but I would say that my internship was nothing less than an exhilarating joy ride with invaluable knowledge served along with it as a bonus.

When I left from Mumbai airport, I had one simple expectation, to have an experience that matters. I signed up for a 6 week Global Community Development Programme which was called the Triple Effect. The triple effect is a Corporate Social Responsibility initiative by the Takatof foundation which is the CSR arm of Pricewaterhouse Coopers, Egypt. My job role consisted of planning, initiating and organising blood donation campaigns in Egypt so as to increase the percentage of voluntary blood donations from 1% to 3%. The biggest challenge I faced was not knowing the local language namely, Arabic. Apart from learning Arabic, I also enhanced my communication skills. Interacting with the locals in corporate and universities in Egypt was a completely different experience in itself. The cherry on the cake was the advantage of being able to travel, learn new things, meet LOTS of new people and discovering a world that is beyond the mundane lives of the Indian youth!

MAHIR BHAT (SOT-11,PDPU)

I started with one of the most amazing journey of my life. To a country whose culture always possess questions to my mind. Less I knew that I had boarded a journey whose experiences and learning will change my life. Interacting with students and sharing ideas helped me enhance my knowledge and learnt the art of looking at things from different angles. During the end of my project I was glad that I made friends with people with such different backgrounds and totally opposite views, I would have never imagined getting so close to. I believe I can say with certainty, we did build some solid bridges over gaps that we experienced to be only very relative. Like every start has an end every joy has some sorrow likewise every journey has a destination. Though I left with a heavy heart, but was proud as I had a new start.

NIMIT DESAI (SLS-12, PDDPU)

I learned how to live in diversity and where does our country actually stands. I developed a technical approach and how to prioritize different activities, how to manage time. I rediscovered myself, developed clarity in my ambition and Practical approach .This stay in the community for me was the best part of the internship as actually helped me to know the people deeply, I felt the warmth, love and care in the family that we stayed in. At the end of this I felt totally contended with what I had done in this month as in a way I had impacted their life with certain tangible solutions which they might never have found out. At the end of the day, this internship is for those who want to make a difference

MEHUL PAREKH (SOT-11,PDDU)

AIESEC provided me the great opportunity where i accomplished some research work along with my AIESEC internship. My research project was about Thermoacoustic Refrigeration it's "Green Refrigeration" without Pollution and also with better efficiency. When I presented my project in front of students of the University they appreciated my work even the HOD of Thermal engineering department, She really appreciated my project and also appreciated the kind of education imparted in our University PDDU, and thought of implementing it in their course of study. Internship was all about cultural exchange and developing Entrepreneurship skills among us. It was all about knowing your inner abilities to know your own potential. The best learning part was getting out of your comfort zone to interact and work as one team with interns coming from different parts of the world, a platform where minds and heart of different countries gathers and work for social welfare. So on the whole it was a great experience.

FAQs

How does AIESEC differ from other organizations that provide internships abroad?

AIESEC provides you with an international experience; the emphasis is on providing cross-cultural experience and complete overall development. AIESEC provides a platform that students can use for personal and professional development. AIESEC is an entirely student run organization that focuses on creating positive impact and helping students tap into their leadership potential.

What does AIESEC offer students in the global entrepreneurs programme?

AIESEC offers you a platform to find an internship experience of your choice. The members in the organization provide guidance and assistance throughout the course of your association with AIESEC. The members will ensure you are inducted into the organization, help you search and find the internship experience of your choice, assist you with documents and visa processes, ensure you are fully prepared for the experience in the country you have chosen. The AIESEC host committee, country will guide and assist you once you reach the host country. The host country will make sure of the pickup, accommodation, internship experience and all other networking events with other interns working on the project with you.

What does AIESEC not provide you?

AIESEC does not offer you tailor made internships as a product, that is, it does not provide you a particular internship in a particular country. AIESEC is present in 113 countries in the world and has a number of opportunities for students to choose from. A student enrolling in the Global Entrepreneurs Programme should be flexible and adaptive with the various internship experiences available in a variety of countries. Every student however, will be given a choice of internships in various countries to choose from before he/she makes his/her decision.

Is there a selection procedure?

AIESEC does have a selection procedure for the applicants who register for the Global Entrepreneurs Programme. The selection procedure is basically to ensure flexibility, global mindset and English fluency of the applicant.

Why choose an international internship over an internship in India?

Through our Global Entrepreneurs Programme you will gain a diverse and international team experience, develop a global mindset, entrepreneurial outlook and become a Global citizen. It is a unique experience and cannot be compared with an internship in India. Being a participant of GEP, you also get exposure to AIESEC's network of corporate and universities.

Who will help me in the host country?

AIESEC has its local committees in 113 countries. The internship experience is based in the nearest local committee of the project chosen. The members in local committee present in the host country will organize for your accommodation, pick up from airport/station, show you around the city and accompany you to work on your first day. In addition, they will integrate you into their activities; organize events for you and the other interns. The members will help you get accustomed to the people, culture in the host country. If there should be any problems, there will always be someone to help you. We will also be in contact with you and support you in every way possible.

Do I receive a refund if I am not able to find a suitable internship?

The fee collected by AIESEC is not refundable if you are not able to find a suitable internship or decide to withdraw from the same. We assure that students who enroll with us get full guidance and support, along with access to AIESEC's platform and network of internship experiences in 113 countries.

Will an AIESEC experience help me get into colleges/universities abroad?

AIESEC is an international organization present in 113 countries and 2400 universities. The organization has a huge network, partners and renowned alumni. The AIESEC experience will surely help you have an international outlook and a global network. Being a participant of the GEP will definitely give you exposure to our Partners. The experience will only be a bonus to your application.

Can me and my friend/friends go for this internship together?

There might be a small chance that two people can take on an AIESEC experience together but there is no guarantee that you will get the same project. AIESEC believes in diversity and we believe and encourage students to take this up alone as it helps one's individual experience and helps you get out of your comfort zone. We strongly suggest taking up the Global Entrepreneurs Program alone. We will ensure you have a fantastic experience and make friends for life!

Will I get a certificate?

Yes! You will get a certificate for your internship experience from the local AIESEC chapter.
