Dr. Subhash N. Shah Receives SPE Distinguished Membership from Society of Petroleum Engineers

Richardson, TX (29 October 2020) – The Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) recently honored Dr. Subhash N. Shah with SPE Distinguished Membership at SPE’s Member Monday Awards Session held 26 October. Shah is Stephenson Chair Professor at University of Oklahoma.

Shah is being recognized for his world-renowned expertise in the scientific development of analyzing and understanding complex fluid flow behavior as it applies to both completion and drilling applications, numerous contributions to the Society as a technical article and book author, service as a Distinguished Lecturer, and ambassador of the industry.

SPE serves more than 164,000 members worldwide, sharing technical knowledge for the benefit of our industry. Each year, SPE presents awards that recognize members whose efforts have advanced petroleum technology, as well as their professional achievements and contributions to the industry and the society.

“It is an honor to recognize Subhash for his commitment and dedication to the oil and gas industry with the SPE Distinguished Membership. SPE international award winners were nominated by their colleagues and selected by their peers for their achievement and contributions and it’s my pleasure to congratulate him on receiving this prestigious international award from SPE,” said Shauna Noonan, 2020 SPE President.
